Within Ace of Being Hurled to Death.

Three-year-old Eleanor Reid Came Near Being Victim of a Runaway Horse
Friday Morning.

REMARKABLE NERVE DISPLAYED BY CHILD.

Little Eleanor Reid, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Reid, of this city, came within an ace of being hurled to death Friday morning of last week. Had it not been for the remarkable presence of mind and self-possession displayed by the child death would have been certain.

Eleanor and her mother were going out for a drive. The run-about and the horse were standing in front of Dr. F. M. Smith's residence. Eleanor had gotten in the buggy when a bus passed by, with bell ringing. The horse hitched to the run-about became frightened, slipped its bridle, made a sharp turn, face about, and darted up the street. Eleanor threw herself back on the seat, feet propped against the bottom

EVERY MAN HAS RIGHT TO KNOW

Position of Any Candidate Running for Office, Says
Ben Johnson.

GIVES HIS POSITION ON WHISKY QUESTION.

The following letter taken from Springfield Sun goes further to prove Ben Johnson's stand on the whisky question:

"Bardonia, Ky., August 14, 1906.—Mr. H. A. Humphrey, Chairman of the Anti-Saloon League of Nelson county, Bloomfield, Ky. Dear Sir:—I have your communication of yesterday asking me to state my position upon the question of 'Local Option' in Nelson county. I recognize the right of every man, and especially of every large number of men banded together for the accomplishment of any lawful purpose, to have an expression from every man who is a candidate before the people for executive or legislative office as to the position occupied by him upon any question of public policy in which the individual voter or a collection of voters may be interested.

"Therefore, I answer your communication by saying that I have, upon every occasion since I arrived at the age of twenty-one, submitted to a vote of the people of this community, voted in favor of 'Local Option' and that I intend to vote likewise upon the question at the election to be held in this county on September 1, 1906, and at any other time in the future when the question may be submitted to a vote in a district where I am entitled to a vote.

"Yours truly,
BEN JOHNSON.

County Fair For Breckenridge.

Success of Masonic Picnic at Hardinsburg Has Started Talk of One—Morris Beard
Says Capital Can be Raised.

IT WILL BE LOCATED AT HARDINSBURG.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The success of the big Masonic picnic has started again the talk of a county fair to be located here. Many of the best business men of the town are favorably inclined toward the enterprise, and it seems now that it will certainly materialize. Morris H. Beard says that there would be no difficulty experienced in securing the necessary capital sufficient to launch the project. Several men have already indicated their intention to take stock in the proposed fair company. That it will be a go seems to be assured. Look out for the county fair to be held at Hardinsburg some time during the fall of 1907.

Allen S. Edelen, of Burgin, sold at Danville last week to Louisiana and other southern buyers three fast pacing mares from four to six years old. All of them have worked miles over the Harrodsburg track in better than 2:30 and one had shown a 2:12 g. They will be used by their buyers as matinee horses. Mr. Edelen says there is at present a strong demand in the Southern States for slick-going pacers with size and bone.

Would Have Been Mashed Into a Jelly.

Had They Held Their Position a Second Longer—
Hair-Breadth Escape of Henry Gibbs and J. D. Babbage, Jr.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED IN NEWS PRESS ROOM.

Part of the main line shafting, carrying four heavy iron pulleys in the News press room, while being suspended in mid-air with ropes Saturday afternoon, fell and crashed into the floor, resulting in a hair-breadth escape of two of the employees, Henry Gibbs and Jno. D. Babbage, Jr. The shafting and pulleys will weigh 800 pounds. It was being taken down for repairs when the crash came, and the two men were taken unaware. Both had been, just the moment before, directly under the shafting, and had they remained there a second longer, both would have met instant death by being mashed into a jelly by the terrific force of the heavy shafting. The crash caused damages, but the plant was put in running order by 6 o'clock Monday evening.

"UNCLE" DOC LASLIE HURT.

Victim of Runaway Horse and May Die—Hole Cut
In Head.

"Uncle" Doc Laslie, a respected colored veteran delivery wagon driver, now employed by Nolte Bros., was the victim of a runaway horse Monday. "Uncle" Doc was thrown from the delivery wagon, his head cut badly, and his body bruised up considerably. It is thought that on account of his old age, he may not withstand his injuries.

MILKING COWS BY MACHINERY.

Test Made in Kansas State College Proves That Venture Is a Success

A test has been completed in the dairy department of the Kansas State Agricultural College which proves that milking machines are a success. The machines were installed and the test conducted by Prof. O. E. in charge of the State dairy work. The machines operate by means of vacuum. A three-horse-power gasoline engine runs a vacuum pump which exhausts the air out of a system of pipes. These pipes run along the sides of the cows, and the milking machines are attached to this pipe by flexible hose. The vacuum created by the pump runs a pulsator on the top of the can and this produces an intermittent suction in the cups attached to the teats of the cows. The suction draws the milk from the cow through the rubber tube and deposits it in the can. The milk is not exposed to the air, hence absolutely sanitary milk can be produced. Kansas City Star.

The soothing spray is of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and on wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to cure. Sold by all druggists for 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56, Warren Street New York.

CARE OF OVER- HEATED ANIMALS

In New York Fire Department Cool
Truck Horses With Streams Of Cold Water.

Recognizing the fact that hot weather serves to work the greatest hardship upon the most miserable slaves of the city—travelling horses—the government of New York makes provision for their care and comfort. The work is carried on through the fire department. When the hot season comes with its sweltering days every fire station in the city becomes a place for the refreshment of tired beasts of burden. A line of hose is run from the nearest water plug and the fireman spend their spare time sprinkling cool water over the heads and backs of the thousands of overheated animals that apply. They are given cool water to drink and a shady spot in which to rest. It is one of the best animal charities of New York, and it is believed that it will be adopted in other cities.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1906.

William J. Bryan's last letter covers the country in and round about Galilee where "Christ spent most of his time and where most of his mighty works were done." It is an interesting letter and gives a great deal of history of the times of Christ. Mr. Bryan tells about the village of Nazareth "nestling among the hills of Galilee" where "Christ's boyhood and young manhood were spent." From a high hill just outside the town Christ could look to the west and see the Mediterranean, and to the east was the great sea of Galilee. From this scene were formed many of his parables which pictured the every day life of the people. Mr. Bryan closes his letter with a visit to the Mount of Beatitudes where it is supposed Christ delivered his great discourse, the Sermon on the Mount. In commenting on this sermon Mr. Bryan says:

"Whether, as a matter of fact, Christ, 'seeing the multitude' ascended to this place I know not, but it furnishes an environment fit for the sublime code of morality presented in the Sermon on the Mount. No other philosophy has ever touched so high a point or presented so noble a conception of human life. In it purity of heart is made the test, mercy is enjoined, humility emphasized, forgiveness commanded and love made the law of action. In that Sermon He pointed out the beginnings of evil, rebuked those who allowed themselves to be engrossed by the care of the body and gave to the world that brief, simple and incomparable prayer which the Christian world repeats in unison. In other places He relieved those whose sufferings came through the in-firmities of the flesh. He bore off a calm for the healing of the nations."

Back to the Old Order.

Col. Henry Watterson in his Courier-Journal of August 15th has this to say of the State primary:

What the Democrats of Kentucky most need at this time is a square deal. What too many aspirants for office seem to want is "a little bit of it." Old ideas of honor, of brotherly love and of the party welfare appear to have dropped out, and in lieu of them how to play for advantage, more or less unfair, rules the roost among contemporary file-leaders and party managers.

That which is true of the Democrats is equally and unhappily true of the Republicans and the conditions existing in Kentucky do not much vary from those existing in most of the States.

We are living in an age of "practical politics," and too often "practical politics" means double-dealing and bad faith, dark closets and back-pieces, each for himself, the devil to get the hindmost, in every contest from the highest to the lowest.

Thus it is that "practical politics" doth become dog-eat-dog politics. It was dead sure when a Primary Election was called a year in advance of the General Election that we should have a middle before we got well into it. In the beginning the Courier-Journal entreated its party associates to see this and not to invite trouble. We pointed out that the nomination of such a Primary to start with—would give the recipient no clear assurance of election. It would carry no moral weight with it and was bound to carry many handicaps. In the case of United States Senator, in especial, it would lack all binding force, and would not be worth having. No Legislature chosen a year later would hold itself bound to respect or obey it. In a mixed Legislature, such as we are likely to have, the longest pole would be sure "to fetch the persimmons."

Whoever has been responsible for such an unwise proceeding lies in the face both of reason and popular sentiment. The assessed money charges sent out the poor man altogether. No body but moneyed-men enter. It seemed to have some sinister design. Yet, may it never be said of any Democratic leader in Kentucky—

"He digged a spit—he digged it deep,
He digged it for his brother:
But, for his sin,
He tumbleth in
The hole he meant for t'other."

Better call the whole thing off, gentlemen. It begins to smell already, and before you are done with it, it will stink. And, in that event, what of the campaign to follow? The Democrats owe their possession of Kentucky to the famous blind folly of the Republicans rather than any merit of wisdom of their own. More unpopular leadership than we have commonly had could hardly be convinced. It is only a question of time when, if it be persevered in, we shall lose the State.

The Courier-Journal is indifferent who fill the offices so that the people control the electorate, whether the electorate takes the form of the old-fashioned Convention or the new-fashioned Primary. On the whole, we prefer the Convention because we think old ways are best. The Primary under existing conditions is too complicated. It offers too many opportunities for the rich and unscrupulous to get in their work. One of these days the people will just rear back on their hind legs and, when they do, the "practical politicians" will hear something drop which they will never forget. As a disinterested monitor, the Courier-Journal again sounds a note of warning. As the enemy of none of the factions, or the aspirants, but the would-be friend of them all—that is of all who are honest men and true Democrats—it tells them that they are traveling over uncertain ground by devils paths; that there are sinkholes ahead; and that, unless they re-establish themselves in the public confidence, they will soon, or late, fall upon a ground swell.

There is but one way to secure any firm footing and that is to do right. He who sees this and acts upon it will most of all in the long run command himself. And so we say, with prejudice to no one, down with the practical black flag of dog-eat-dog politics, and up with the banner of Democracy, both untarnished and unfeigned, bearing not the names of greed, self-seeking men but of great, enduring measures; the Restoration of the States to their proper place in the National orbit and the step of the onward sweep of Federal Centralization and Aesolism: the total subjection of the Money Power, wherever it projects its head above the horizon which justly bounds the fairly granted franchise and protects the rights of property, to the law; the reduction of the Tariff Schedules to a Revenue basis for the support, and only the support, of the General Government, economically administered.

Put no man in office who sets his ambition above these doctrines of Democracy, or who may be suspected of preferring himself to his party and his country. Let us upon the threshold of a whole-hearted reunion of Democrats and a return to power as a result of that reunion, recant to first principles. There was a time when no man could do a shady action in Kentucky and politically live. There was a time when the party law was the will of the majority. Integrity was not only at a premium in it, but the standard, and no aspirant dared subject himself to so much as the intimation of unfairness. The field was as clear as sunshine and as open as the day. The people who still have the word and draw the water and pay the taxes and vote the ticket want to see something more than personal self-seeking among their public men, and their sense of pride in their public men is not yet lost for the lack of the wit and learning and genius and eloquence which once distinguished Kentucky in the National Councils, and which they hope to see once again at the fore-front of the battle as in the days of Crittenden and Clay and Harlan, of the Breckenridges and the Marshalls.

In short and in fine, call the damned thing off, and give a poor man a chance to get a nomination, as in days of yore, without money and without price.

OUR DEAR GIRLS IN PARIS

Get Obnoxious Newspaper Publicity-Fault Probably, of New York Dailies—Are Not "Peaches."

(Newspaperman, New York.)

The nonsense written in the New York newspapers since Colonel Watterson's bunch of Kentucky girls on the way of their departure for abroad, to enjoy a tour under the auspices of the Louisville Courier-Journal has brought upon the heads of the young ladies more or less adverse comment on the part of certain Paris journals. To the uninitiated, the stories in the New York papers led them to believe Colonel Watterson's sensible, self-respecting young women were nothing more or less than a bunch of silly, peach-faced, art-like shaped girls. When the Frenchmen clapped their eyes on them there were many mutterings of disapproval. To make matters worse, the newspapermen of Paris believed the stories from our side of the pond. As a consequence the French public and the press as the first offender and instigator, are showing singular lack of gallantry in its treatment of Kentucky girls.

Against all the facts it has been assumed, or pretended, that these girls represent the "survival of the fittest" in beauty show, instead of having been selected for their popularity.

As a matter of fact the visitors are happy and healthy young women, consumed, or pretended, that these girls represent the "survival of the fittest" in beauty show, instead of having been selected for their popularity. accepted French. All the papers use it and it has already been applied to French women.

L'Esprit distinguished itself by a mocking article. It declares that it finds the beauty of the visitors only a bluff. Another remarks "Never did I feel so immense prop so little beauty." Surprise is expressed that one of the first places they visited in Paris was the Morgue, which no decent French woman thinks of entering. Their explanation is that through some strange misunderstanding they thought they were being taken to the Zoological Gardens, and that all fled when they were introduced to the lugubrious array of outstretched bodies.

Photographers follow the American girls all around town. Most of the girls indignantly shield their faces or deliberately shake their heads. As a result, the pictures printed more than justify the bad impression. All their movements are published at great length, making excellent "faily sensation" matter. One paper even asserts gravely that they live in rooking chairs evenings and are fed mainly on food water and cake.

For Congress.

HON. BEN JOHNSON

"When sister wears her elbow gloves,

Her little brother mocks,
And calls attention to himself
"As wearing elbow socks."

The farmers in Hancock county have pooled 85 per cent of their present crop of tobacco. What are the farmers in Breckenridge doing along this line?

We have a piece of corn in our truck patch with the ears so high above the ground that we have to use a step ladder to reach them. This corn was planted July 4. If it had been planted on time there is no telling where it would have gone to. Great corn year in old Breckenridge.

Col. E. A. Gullion, of New Castle, has announced his candidacy for Superintendent of Public Instruction. There is no man better fitted or equipped for the place than Col. Gullion. A man with large experience in school work and a man of high character and standing. He would make an ideal Superintendent. Here's hoping the Colonel may get there.

The citizens and business men of Breckenridge county should not be slow to recognize the movement on foot at Hardinsburg for the founding and establishment of a county fair. Such a movement should be given so great an impetus by the moneyed men of the county that its purpose shall be forthcoming by the fall of 1907. Every county of any wealth, progress and enterprise supports a county fair, which in fact and in truth is but a clearing-house of all its people's works and ideas brought together in order that there may be a closer communion of these things. Should not Breckenridge county, just now in a spirit of glory and triumph, just now at a time of unprecedented wealth and progressiveness, blossom forth and give life to a county fair and proclaim abroad and afar her wealth and opportunities, her peace and her happiness? Let every man, who has by the grace of God, been permitted to live in glorious old Breckenridge county, give vent to the founding of a county fair in a substantial way.

Col. Harry Summers Greeting to Ky. Press: There never was a time in the history of the world when the press exercised such an influence as it does today. Its power for good has been recently demonstrated in uncovering the frauds in life insurance companies and the criminal negligence in the great packing houses. It has exposed and sent to prison some of the greatest grafters of the age and destroyed the political power of some of the most prominent men in the country who have not been doing right.

The Kentucky Press is doing its part in the great movement of the age. It is stimulated with a desire to render service to the public. Most of the Kentucky editors are not only men of character and intelligence, but they are men of courage, who stand out boldly in their advocacy of those things that make for the improvement of politics, education, commercial development and the advancement of the people. The country editor-to-day is especially a light on the watch tower of progress and righteousness. No man has a greater opportunity to help his community and his country, than the editor of a clean country newspaper and as a rule he is exercising it according to his ability. Whatever progress and advancement Kentucky has made in the last decade, it owes more of it to the press than any other agency.

To day over a hundred of these moulders of public opinion will be in Elizabethtown for an hour. We regret that their stay is necessarily so short, but brief as it is, we want to extend to them on behalf of all the citizens of Elizabethtown a cordial welcome to our city and to all we have. We cannot do them too much honor.

These words of Col. Harry sunk deep into the hearts of all the boys, and the royal welcome extended by the good citizens of Elizabethtown will live in the memory of every member of the Association as one of the shortest and sweetest occasion of its history. We never saw a finer looking crowd of men and women, every one of whom gave you a hearty welcome.

BRYAN HAS ## A RIVAL.

He's Out in Iowa Campaigning
With a Silk Hat And a Wheel Barrow.

Andrew Townsend Hisey, the originator of "secular government" and candidate for Governor of Iowa by petition, started yesterday on his wheelbarrow campaign of the State.

He carries about fifty pounds of baggage with him, says the Clinton (Ia.) Herald. All of it is his literature, except a waterproof lantern for the protection of his silk hat from now and then showers and also to protect his petition to the Executive Council to get his name on the ballot.

He is taking a northwesterly course, making Sioux City his objective point. On arriving there he will at once interview Mr. Perkins and expects after a few moments conversation with the sage of the Northwest to get him to withdraw.

Having accomplished this, he will take a southeasterly course to Des Moines, where he will appear in the executive chamber and proceed to secure the withdrawal of Gov. Cummins. This he expects he will do with but little trouble.

During his trip he will spend his nights at farmhouses, thus getting in perfect touch with the great rural elements of the State.

Mr. Hisey has great ambitions, as he expects to be a candidate for President in 1908. He declares that he is the only man who can defeat Col. Bryan, and that when elected he will take care of Mr. Perkins, Major Rathbun and Gov. Cummins.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at Severs Drug Co., Cloverport.

Less Coupler, of Reed's Station, is the guest of Miss Della Winchell at Tobinsport.

NITRO CULTURES.

Results of a Field Test Designed to Throw Light on Their Value.
The Georgia farmer has during the past year or so become deeply interested in the use and distribution of commercial nitro cultures for legumes, particularly those for the cowpea and alfalfa. Their sale at relatively costly figures has also been extensive, and many public testimonials, some of them very highly colored, regarding the supposed efficacy of these preparations have been published from time to time. The state experiment station has therefore pursued a line of work the object of which was to present the public with a clear, unbiased statement of the results of a field test designed to throw some light upon their value conducted fairly and impartially, yet under conditions as favorable as could possibly be devised for the commercial nitro culture to "get in its work."

Soil Already Full of Bacteria.
It is now reported that an examination of the experimental plots planted in iron cowpeas, one plot inoculated and one other untreated, disclosed the fact that both were equally covered by nodules, a critical examination failing to reveal the slightest difference between them.

Hence not only is the conclusion inevitable that inoculating the seed with the commercial nitro culture for cowpeas gives no result in this experiment, but also that no results could have been obtained on account of the fact that the soil was already thoroughly infected. If, therefore, an exhaustive search for a plot of uninoculated soil met with failure, it is not unlikely that the average soil of this section will anywhere be found uninoculated.

The Conclusion For Georgia.
The brief conclusion of the whole matter by Mr. Starnes, who writes the report, is:
First—That few soils throughout middle Georgia are likely to be found not already thoroughly colonized or infected with the special form of P. radicola which uses the cowpea as its host.

Second—Consequently, whether the commercial distributed "cotton dried" nitro culture for the cowpea does or does not contain living colonies of this bacterium, it is valueless here.

White Velvet Okra.
Okra is distinctly a southern vegetable and is highly appreciated by our southerners. It grows in most of our gardens, but frequently the variety grown is an inferior one.

The white velvet is by all odds the best we have. It excels in two important particulars. The stickers or spines which make the handling of okra unpleasant are much less prominent and troublesome in this variety, and the pod remains tender much longer.

Usually there will be found a considerable difference in the productiveness and quality of the pods of the different stalks. Some will approach the common okra in roughness, while some stalks will branch little and bear only a few pods. The remedy is to select your own seed from stalks which are uniform in quality of pod and which branch freely and put out plenty of fruit.—Southern Cultivator.

A Grape Fruit Grove.
A man certainly requires patience and capital to attempt to make an orange or grape fruit grove in the southern end of Florida, but when he has brought his grove to full bearing he has as solid an investment as can be found. His profits increase each year and the value of the property likewise. He is too far south to ever fear injury to trees or fruit from cold, and trees once established in these rocks are drought proof. The rocks a foot or so down are always moist, even in the driest times. The tree roots work through the rocks in all directions and apparently get something out of the rocks besides the moisture. Groves that are from six to ten years old and in good condition are valued at from $1,000 to $1,500 an acre, says a Dade county correspondent of the Country Gentleman.

Bolted or Self Bolted.
The various lime and sulphur mixtures (some with and some without salt and caustic soda) are all recommended by the New Jersey experiment station as giving more uniform results when bolted by fire or steam than when self bolted. It is advised to bolt them with fire or steam when it can be done without too much labor. The self bolted mixtures are sometimes convenient because more easily made, though slightly less reliable unless carefully prepared and thoroughly applied.

TROUBLE WITH TROOPS

Race Feeling at Brownsville, Texas, Is Running High.

SOLDIERS KEPT IN QUARTERS

State Guard in Camp Anxious to Get a Crack at Colored Regulars—Governor Ordered Rangers to the Scene—Business Entirely Suspended and Further Trouble Is Feared.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 17.—Since the recent raid by negro soldiers from Fort Brown race feeling here is running high.

Further trouble is expected with the negro troops. A citizens' guard of 150 men is stationed along the road between this city and Fort Brown, and if the negro soldiers attempt to leave the garrison it is the avowed purpose of the citizens to shoot them down. There were 400 Winchester rifles sold to citizens. The report that officers of the garrison are afraid of the negro troops determined the citizens to take no chances. Many people are leaving their homes on the side of the city near Fort Brown. An official appeal was made to Governor Lanham to send state troops. Business is entirely suspended here.

It is reported the Texas National Guard troops attending the maneuvers at Camp Mabey are clamoring to be sent to Brownsville. Sensational rumors inflamed the militiamen. It is now believed the negro radicals committed the recent acts in Brownsville in retaliation for the reported intention of Texas militiamen to use ball cartridges in the event the United States permitted the negro troops to participate in the Camp Mabey maneuvers. Adjutant General Hull considers it unwise to send state troops here.

The committee sent most urgent message to President Roosevelt, Senators Bailey and Governor Lanham, detailing the outrage and stating that after two days' dilatory inquiries it has been found that no blame attaches to the citizens, and asking that the negroes be replaced by white troops. The message states that there have been made by the soldiers that they will break out again and burn the town, and it is feared the five commissioned officers can not control the men. The governor and senators are implored to do all they can to secure the removal of the negro troops.

It is said the government investigation will result in a court martial for one or more officers.

SHORT SHRIFF.

Negro Lynched While the Governor Pleaded to Save Him.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 17.—Within the shadow of the home of his victim, Miss Jennie Bristow, after having been identified by her and after Governor Haywood addressed the mob in vain, Bob Davis, the negro who murdered a white man, was lynched by 15 with intent to commit assault, and who afterwards outraged a negro girl 16 years old, was lynched at Greenwood, Thursday night.

Governor Haywood reached the scene shortly after the negro was captured. A platform was erected in a fence corner on the premises of the victim's father, from which platform Governor Haywood addressed the mob in an effort to prevent the lynching. The governor beseeched the mob not to lynch Davis, and the conclusion of his speech the governor was feverishly cheered. The mob then removed the prisoner from the view of the governor and within a short distance of the home his victim the negro was riddled with bullets.

Girl Bound Hand and Feet.
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 17.—Ellie Vansickle, 13, who started from the home of a relative to her home, was found bound hand and feet near the railroad tracks in the northeastern part of the city, several miles from her home. The Vansickle girl says she was seized by a strange man. A handkerchief saturated with chloroform was thrust into her face and she soon lost consciousness. She says that when she first recovered consciousness she was lying on the railroad tracks and the headlight of a locomotive was approaching. She managed to throw herself off the tracks.

Campbell Nominated.
Dallas, Tex., Aug. 17.—Thomas H. Campbell, a native of Rank, Tex., the place of the nativity of the late Governor Hogg, was nominated by the Democratic party as its candidate for governor of Texas. He will be the second native governor of Texas. Campbell is a lawyer, but for several years was general manager of the International & Northern Railway.

Boys Rolled Under Train.
Jeffersonville, Ind., Aug. 17.—While playing on a pile of sand at the side of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in this city, Harold Kennedy, 10, and Walter Titta, 8, rolled under a passing suburban train. The Titta boy was instantly killed. Kennedy had both legs cut off, one arm broken, his head badly bruised, and is not expected to live.

Body of Abner Jones.
Middleboro, Ky., Aug. 14.—The body of Abner Jones, said to have been a member of Frank Bell's gang, was found near the scene of the recent battle between the Whites and the Negroes at Rose Hill, Va.

Terrible Scaly Humor in Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by Cuticura in Thirty Days at Cost of $4.75.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Soap, six boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed with Cuticura and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I still remain permanently as I was about five years ago."

The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center a spot of healthy skin. The spots gradually grew larger and more numerous. To remove the entire scales I bathed with Cuticura and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I still remain permanently as I was about five years ago."

The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center a spot of healthy skin. The spots gradually grew larger and more numerous. To remove the entire scales I bathed with Cuticura and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I still remain permanently as I was about five years ago."

"To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas." (Signed) W. M. Chidister, Hutchinson, Kan., April 20, 1905.

ALL FOR BROWN.

Election of the Ohio Man Was Typical Peace Victory.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 17.—After a spirited rivalry since the opening of the G. A. R. encampment the election of officers for the ensuing year was turned into a great "peace victory" of national fellowship and good will. The following were elected:

Commander-in-Chief, R. B. Brown of Zanesville, O.; for senior vice commander, William H. Armstrong of Cincinnati, O.; for junior vice commander, E. B. Panton of Detroit; for chaplain-elect, Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul; for surgeon general, W. H. Johnson of Idaho Falls, N. B. All officers are staff appointments which will be announced by the new commander-in-chief in due time.

The commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, R. B. Brown, was born in 1845 and has always lived in Ohio. He enlisted in the Fifteenth Ohio Infantry at 16 and served in the Fourth army corps in the Army of the Cumberland until he was mustered out in 1865. He then re-enlisted as a private soldier and served as such until the end of the war. He was a private throughout the first three years of his service and then became a non-commissioned officer. He has always been active in the G. A. R. work of the Grand Army, and is a past commander of the department of Ohio. He is editor of the Zanesville Courier.

W. R. C. Election.
Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Carrie Sparkling of St. Louis was elected national president of the Woman's Relief Corps. Her principal work was Mrs. Kate Jones of New York. Mrs. Sparkling has previously held a number of high offices in the organization.

ANOTHER BANK

In Receiver's Hands on Account of Failure of Stensland.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The Garfield Park bank at 2024 West Madison street was placed in the hands of a receiver by Judge Beetha in the United States district court. Three creditors with claims amounting to several thousand dollars filed the petition in court, asking that Ellis E. Drake, president of the institution, as well as the bank, be declared insolvent. The assets of the bank are not given in the petition. The court appointed Harry Hestand receiver, fixing a claim at $10,000. The Milwaukee Avenue bank failure is said to have caused the smaller institution to close. Since the failure of the Milwaukee bank, the Garfield Park bank withdrew deposits. When the three creditors who asked for the receiver went to the bank for their money they were given no satisfaction, and the court's action followed. Drake declared that he is solvent, and if given time to dispose of certain securities he will be able to pay all creditors in full.

Boys Rolled Under Train.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Aug. 17.—While playing on a pile of sand at the side of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in this city, Harold Kennedy, 10, and Walter Titta, 8, rolled under a passing suburban train. The Titta boy was instantly killed. Kennedy had both legs cut off, one arm broken, his head badly bruised, and is not expected to live.

Body of Abner Jones.

Middleboro, Ky., Aug. 14.—The body of Abner Jones, said to have been a member of Frank Bell's gang, was found near the scene of the recent battle between the Whites and the Negroes at Rose Hill, Va.

A WEEK'S HAPPENINGS

RELATING TO AFFAIRS IN THIS AND ADJOINING STATES.

Boyle County Farmer Gives Himself Up and Says He Has a Mania For Burning Barns—Physician Assaulted by a Negro.

Danville, Ky., Aug. 13.—John Weisiger's big stock barn, valued at $5,000, located one mile from here, burned 10 days ago.

At the time it was supposed the fire started by spontaneous combustion which was owing to the fact that the loft had just been filled with new hay. James Spaulding, a well-to-do planter residing three miles from town, drove his carriage to the Jailer's residence, stepped to the door and rang the bell. The officer responded, and Spaulding instructed his driver to take the carriage home, then informed the jailer that he burned the Weisiger barn and asked to be locked up. He said he had no ill will toward Mr. Weisiger, but that at times he just felt mean, and that his great desire was to burn barns. Spaulding was taken before Judge Nichols, where he again stated his case, and was ordered to jail to await his examining trial. Spaulding has a wife and three small children. The family is among the most prominent of the county.

Physician Assaulted.
Paducah, Ky., Aug. 15.—This city, which was the center of excitement during the Mayfield attempted lynching when a negro was "legally hanged," was again aroused when a desperate negro made a malicious attack on one of the most prominent physicians of western Kentucky. Dr. J. W. Pendley is the victim. A gardener's wagon filled with watermelons passed down street. As Pendley preceded the wagon, the negro, who was not waited on first, Pendley struck the negro, who retaliated by hitting Pendley with a brick. The negro and a companion fled but they were pursued, captured and taken to jail.

Shot His Brother-in-Law.
Glasgow, Ky., Aug. 13.—At Edmond Buford Purley shot J. E. McCandless. The men were brothers-in-law, and had not been on friendly terms for some time. The negro, who was talking to friends on the street, Purley approached unobserved, and with a warning, "I am going to shoot you here," fired, the bullet passing through the victim's side and almost severing his arm. Purley has not been captured. McCandless fell at almost the same spot where Judge Price fell when killed by a brother of McCandless two years ago.

West Virginia Feud.
Welch, W. Va., Aug. 13.—Tom Harmon was brought here from Maryland. It is alleged he was shot through the head by his father-in-law, Marlow Lambert, after a series of family troubles. Harmon was shot in the head in his early stage. It is said Lambert shot him without warning, and deliberately walked away defying any one to arrest him. The relatives of Harmon are securing the mountains and a general slaughter is expected if the opposing forces meet. Lambert is known to have several of his relatives with him.

Girl Outraged.
Columbia, Ky., Aug. 15.—Lizzie Hancock, who resides at the home of B. F. Tupman, a farmer on the Green River section of Adams county, was a victim of a negro. The negro was armed with a pistol, and warned Miss Hancock not to make any outcry. As soon as the negro went away Miss Hancock gave the alarm. Mr. Hancock thinks she can identify her assailant.

Negro Seized Child.
Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 15.—Gertrude Wheeler, 11, while walking with her parents down Ninth street, was seized by a negro as she passed a dark alley. The negro ran with the child, but was so closely pursued by the parents that he dropped her after going about 50 yards. The alarm was given and several negroes were arrested, but they could not be identified.

Cloudburst at Vincennes.
Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 17.—An inch and a half of rain fell here in 20 minutes. The streets were badly flooded and several barns were blown down. Two immense brick smokestacks of a local distilling company were struck and the top of one of them was wrecked. The storm was the worst experienced in years, and the damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

After a Crap Game.
Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 15.—When John Smith, a white truck walker, broke Oley Fulton, a negro laborer, in a game of craps at Antler, and declined to resume play after Fulton retained more money, the negro shot the white man, killing him instantly. Fulton was arrested and hurried to Welch on a handcar to prevent lynching.

Soldier's Body Unclaimed.
Louisville, Ky., Aug. 13.—An yet no one has claimed the body of Alma Clifton, a variety performer, who committed suicide Thursday. Her relatives reside at Paterson, N. J.

Socialists Nominates.
Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Thomas H. Hanes, a locomotive engineer, was nominated for congress by the Socialist congressional convention for the Tenth district of Tennessee.

VOTER'S RIGHTS

In Primary Elections, As Viewed by a Kansas City Court.

Kansas City, Aug. 14.—In the circuit court it was decided by Judge Brumbaugh that it is contrary to the constitution of the United States for a political committee to make an arbitrary ruling defining what members of the party should have the right to vote at primary elections, basing the ruling on how the members of the party voted at the last state election. Judge Brumbaugh declared that the ballot is sacred under the constitution, and that no political party has the right to investigate and find out how a man voted at the past election. The political committee ruled that no man who had not voted the party ticket at the last state election had the right to vote the straight party ticket at the last state election appealed to the circuit court to stay the action of the committee.

Demsey Defeated Bernard.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 16.—Riotous scenes characterized the Hamilton county Democratic convention, called to select delegates to the state convention. The delegates resulted over the fight for control of the convention between the followers of Mayor Demsey on one side and Lewis G. Bernard, who for a long time has been the local Democratic leader. Bernard was defeated. The following delegates at large were selected: Mayor E. J. Kerney, Charles E. Rogers, M. W. Marx, Jerry Mulroy, Henry Inwall, Thomas Bentham and Frank Pfaff.

OARR'S TRADE LETTER.

Will Spring Wheat Crop be Marked at 70c Level Chicago or Will American Farmers Dictate Prices? Corn Trade Preparing For The Last Ruu From Reserves. Oats The Only Short Crop In Sight.

Weekly review of Grain Trade Conditions which are shaping prices, prepared especially for News by the Farmers Commission House of Chicago, Ill., and the Board of Trade Chicago, largest exporters of Cash Grain in this Country direct from Producers; hence their information regarding crop conditions is drawn from a thousand sources. They are the only men who know the grain markets and needing a workmanlike commission merchant, should not fail to command the services of this firm.

The developments the last few days on the wheat trade market make the situation all the more interesting from any who would strike a balance between what production and what prices. The tendency has been down hard until the September contracts are now around the 70c level. Several important things are to be considered in price making at this writing. It looks as if the decline has entirely disclosed the magnificent winter wheat yield for the year, which is at a record of about 100 million bushels. Evidence of this is seen in the fact that southwestern wheat raisers have almost stopped selling.

St. Louis and Kansas City now have enough less than half of a year ago. The new question to be solved by the trade is, how soon and in how large quantity will the new spring wheat be marketed. Winter wheat began coming to primary markets when prices were around 85c.

The spring wheat move in the same volume with prices down to 70c in Chicago and at a lower figure in other markets. Favorable weather over the spring wheat country and good progress with the harvest will soon settle this question. The third important consideration for the trade is the foreign demand. It has been disappointing so far even at the decline in our prices. The London market declares that before many weeks importing Europe will be forced to buy more freely of American wheat than for many years. If American wheat raisers adopt the same tactics as corn raisers did on the big crop of 1905, selling only when prices were well advanced and shutting off supplies when the market declined, then foreign buyers may find prices on this side market up when they are ready to enter their harvest purchases.

Naturally there is liquidation by holders for September at this time. This has a depressing effect on the later months. Many are predicting further decline to possibly 70c for December and 70c for May in this market, but any one of the important considerations we have named may be the means of changing the course of the market before it reaches that level.

There has been little doubt at any time that corn reserves from the big crop of the last year are liberal. Several times the trade has been disappointed by moderate offerings when liberal delivery was expected. The result has been a steady decline in price. There has been an excellent base, farm work has progressed so that harvesting is out of way. This leaves the way clear for larger marketing of corn reserves.

There are more liberal than for some time. This has had the effect of forcing holders of September corn to let go.

If You Suffer with Rheumatism

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy Will Bring the Utmost Relief that Medicine Can.

The one remedy which many physicians refuse to use for the cure of the Rheumatic Pains, which are the cause of the Rheumatic Pains, is Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy. It is the only remedy that has been found to cure the Rheumatic Pains, and it is the only remedy that has been found to cure the Rheumatic Pains, and it is the only remedy that has been found to cure the Rheumatic Pains.

SEVER'S DRUG CO.

The break has not been abrupt because the prices are well over the level of future. Stock are light, receipts are small, the visible supply is 1,500,000 bush less than a year ago and it may take a very free movement from first hands to cause much depression in the speculative market.

Of May to May much under 45c of late years. Contracts for that month are at 45c at this writing and the money markets in the trade are of the opinion that this property will find friends in great numbers as the price settles back under the figure named.

The oats trade has a different situation to consider than that noted in wheat and corn. The yield for the year will be far short of 1905. For the first of this month rains have done considerable damage to oats in shock wheat and in the Ohio river country.

Grain has been steamed and otherwise damaged. Adverse weather has had the effect of preventing such receipts as the trade expected from the east. There is only moderate selling pressure on the open market against the carry over offerings. This market shows considerable subnormal in view of the break in the leading markets.

Blames the Law.

(Published by request.)

Do men realize how unjust, how selfish and unreasonable they are toward their wives. What man would give his wife? The wife, as a rule, has to carry an equal burden with the husband, but because she is her husband's helper for very often she is expected to be cook, house-keeper, nurse and seamstress if not laundry woman and scrub woman also. Then she must be a mother, a nurse, a housewife's earnings, what is her reward? Does the husband consider her a joint owner of what has been saved? He puts it in his own pocket and it she wants a few dollars to make her own money, he is presentable the next moment to the husband's judgment as to whether or not she needs it, and in many cases she is denied point-blank what rightfully belongs to her. Is it any wonder that she is driven to pilfer from her husband's pockets? It is not a wonder that more women don't resent such injustice? If the wife protests against such treatment she is told that the money must go for more useful purposes, that purchase, it is her right to have for her, and thus she surrenders her wants and wishes. But she makes her a joint owner in the home he is paying for with her earnings, and she has a place in the home during his lifetime, and at his death the law in many states, made by man alone—on being excluded—gives the property to his nearest kindred and the poor widow who worked and saved and struggled for a home even harder than the husband simply has the income of one third during her lifetime, which in many cases makes her dependent upon her children in old age; hence the despised mother-in-law, and should not man be ashamed of such a law when he does not permit woman to have any voice in the law by which she is to abide? But when the injustice is pointed out to him he excuses himself by saying: "O, well, if the law gave the property to the widow she would marry again and her second husband would get the property away from her." A flimsy excuse, and yet it shows the spirit of man toward woman.—Mrs. J. M. Denton, Md.

M. H. & E. WILL THE POWER OF SONG.

Statement From Road's President Clears All Doubts As To Destination of New Road.

The Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern Railroad within five years will be running into Cloverport.

President Holman, of the M. H. & E., made the statement to Mr. J. A. Barry of this city, who went to Madisonville to see President Holman as a representative of the Cloverport Commercial Club. The road is now being constructed to Mitchell, where it will join the branch of the Henderson Route. The new road will run its trains over this branch into Louisville until the line from Mitchell to Cloverport can be built. There will be but two miles of the road bed of the Breckenridge Canal Coal Co., east. The route of the new road will be from Mitchell to a point very near Tar Springs where it will join the Breckenridge Canal Coal Co. road bed. The new track will run along this route into Cloverport where it will connect with the L. H. & St. L. The new road will be extended to the levee at the river formerly used by the Breckenridge company. This extension will be made for the shipment of coal by means of the Ohio river, and by the time the road into Cloverport is completed there will be a nine-foot stage of water on the Ohio river thus allowing coal fleets navigation through out the year.

The new road will be primarily a coal road. Its purpose is to furnish an outlet for the vast coal fields through which it will have its routing. This coal will be brought to Cloverport and shipped South and thence to the Panama Canal. It was stated to the News by a party who has become acquainted with ideas of the M. H. & E. officials that the intention is to open up a coal field which will compete with coal fields of Pennsylvania in the market for the Panama Canal coal supply. They claim they can bring coal to Cloverport and ship it to Panama cheaper than the firms at Pittsburgh since the distance is a very great deal less. The coal fields they intend to open will be of course be virgin and the supply will be inexhaustible for many years to come. The officials claim the fact that it would be much cheaper to bring coal to Cloverport and load it on coal fleets than it would to load it to Louisville, load it there and bring it down the river again.

Why does the sun burn? Why does a mosquito sting? Why do we feel unwell in the blood old Summer Time? Answer we don't. We need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these pills will do it. Don't let the name on the box get the genuine. Sold by all druggists.

OLLIE JAMES MAY

RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

Congressman Ollie James, of the First Kentucky district, is expected to reach Louisville to-night, says the Courier-Journal, having passed through Washington City on his way home last midnight. Congressman James has just returned from Europe, where he met William Jennings Bryan.

He has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and it is expected that an authoritative announcement of his entry or declaration will be forthcoming when he reaches the State.

For dry cracked lips or rough skin, use Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. It positively makes lips and skin like velvet. Sold by Severs Drug Co.

Back numbers of the Delineator two for 15 cents at the News office. Nice line for paper dolls.

When a woman suffers from depressing weaknesses, she then keenly realizes how helpless—how thoroughly worthless she is. Dr. Shoop has brought relief to thousands of such women. He reaches diseases peculiar to women in two, direct, specific ways—a local treatment known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Night Cure, and a constitutional or internal prescription called Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is applied locally, and it works while you sleep. It reduces inflammation, it stops discharges, it breaks, it soothes, it comforts, it cures.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative (tablet or liquid form) is a constitutional, nerve tonic. It brings renewed strength, lasting ambition vigor to weak, listless women.

These two remedies, singly, or used together, have an irresistible, positive helpful power. Try them a month and see. Sold by Severs Drug Co.

"Speaking of things of moral beauty we were deeply impressed a few days since by reading in a paper the description of a recent occurrence in a police court in one of our largest cities. We scarcely ever read anything that affected us more profoundly. We gave the paragraph entire as we saw it in the paper:

"'In my room, red-eyed, disheveled, lined up before the judge of the court. 'It was, the regular morning company of drunks and disorderlies. Some were old and hardened, others hung their heads in shame.

"Just as the momentary disorder attending the bringing of the prisoners quieted down, a strange thing happened. A strong clear voice from below began singing:

"'Last night I lay a sleeping. Three came a dream so fair. 'I stood in old Jerusalem. A night-mare or a drunken stupor. The song was such a contrast to the horrible fact that no one could avoid the sudden shock at the thought the song suggested.

"The judge had risen. He made a quiet inquiry. A former member of a famous opera company, known all over the country, was awaiting trial for forgery. It was he who was singing in this cell.

"The light of day was on his streets. And once again the scene was changed. New earth there seemed to be: I saw the Holy City. Besides the address was: 'The light of day was on his streets. The gates were open wide. And all who would might enter. And no one was denied.'

Every man in the line showed emotion. One boy at the end of the line, after desperate effort at self-control, leaped against the wall buried his face in his folded arms and sobbed. 'O, mother, mother!'

The song cut the weary hearts of the men who heard, and the song still selling its way through the court room, headed in the hush. At length one man protested.

"'Judge,' said he, 'have we got to come to this? The song is too touching. The police sergeant, after a surprised effort to keep the men in line, stepped back and water with the rest. The song moved to its climax:

"'Jerusalem! Jerusalem! He that is of the house of David! Hosanna in the highest! Hosanna for evermore!'

In an ecstasy of melody the last words rang out, and then there was a silence.

The judge looked into the faces of the men before him. There was not one who was not touched by the song; not one in whom some better impulse was not stirred.

"The judge called the cases singly—a kind word of advice, and he dismissed them all. No man was fined or sentenced to the workhouse that morning. The song had done more good than punishment could have accomplished."

In this state it is not necessary to serve a five days' notice for eviction of a cold. Use the original laxative cough syrup. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. No opiates. Sold by all druggists.

HAYS SAYS HE IS READY TO MEET HAGER.

Gen. N. B. Hays set Wednesday night at the Willard Hotel says the Louisville Herald. He has just returned from a speaking tour in Western Kentucky, and to stop at the hotel that he had of the fact that Judge Hager was going to challenge him for a series of joint debates came from the newspapers.

"I am glad Judge Hager has seen it to take this contest," said Gen. Hays, and I will be pleased to meet him on the stump. It is an opportunity to meet my opponent on the same platform is one I desire. I have not yet received Judge Hager's letter, but will give it my immediate attention when I do receive it. Candidates for office should go before the people, and I am sure that they would turn out to hear us discuss the issues. The people are interested and want to see and hear the men seeking their support.

As soon as I receive Judge Hager's letter I will arrange with him a series of meetings, and I hope that he will agree to canvass the State with me."
